

me a further £78 pound. He joked saying that he did not expect that we would be in a position to get the deposit back.

On Thursday 9th April 2009 at a secure location I met with DI Hutcheson. DI Hutcheson read to me the instructions to undercover officers. He then briefed me regarding the operation and my objectives as follows.

1. Provide pre-emptive intelligence on a potential attack on Ratcliffe on Sour power station.
2. To explore possible opportunities for disruption for the planned attack on Ratcliffe on Sour Power Station.
3. To record any conversations with co-conspirators using an audio recording device. Namely and
4. Further to this, to comply with use and conduct authorities, namely to hire the vehicle for the action to be used to transport activists. To conduct a dry run prior to the event over Easter. To drive the vehicle to muster points. To drive the vehicle to Ratcliffe on Sour main gates or as directed and drop off activists. Not to enter the power station. To use participatory authority to trespass, obstruct and cause criminal damage as a last resort. To provide details of any vehicles to be used on the action. To provide details of muster points for the action.

On Friday 10th April 09 I hired a 7 and half ton truck from AVR vehicle leasing in Nottingham. The Registration number of the vehicle was BX08CDN.

The previous evening had approached me at the Sumac centre and asked me if I had any knowledge about driving offences as he had been approached to take on a similar role to myself in the forthcoming action. I explained that using a vehicle for a purpose it was not intended for may invalidate the insurance which could be quite serious. I also said that I was not intending to use my vehicle to damage any gates or fences as the police could then get really heavy on the drivers because of putting the passengers in the back of the truck in danger. I went on to say that because we hire the vehicles we have to give all our correct details so we are easily traceable and become targets.

I had parked the truck in Mount Street, Nottingham. I was approached at the Sumac centre by a lad called George who lives at the . He said that I should attend his home for a drivers meeting at 4pm on the Saturday 11th April 09.

On Saturday 11th April 09 at 4pm I went to where I met with also a resident at the address and who I know lives in Nottingham and attends the Sumac centre on occasions.

We then cycled to the Sneinton area of Nottingham, eventually arriving at the Iona school. There I met with and who had travelled in a hired minibus from Bristol; and about 7 other people.

The reason the Iona school was used would appear to be because of a person who rents a space there. is a vegan cook who runs a small vegan cake baking enterprise. She has access to the school and would appear to have been approached because off her friendships with activists involved in this particular action. When I saw and spoke
